MEDICINAL.

Putting food into a diseased stomach is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutri-tion, the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it. The body is weakened and the blood impoverished.

The pocket can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood. Doctor Pierce's and blood, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar prompt-ness and power on the organs of digestion and nutri-tion. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the There is no alcohol or other intoxi-cant contained in "Golden Medical

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glensavage, somerset Co., Fa., writes: "I had been doctoring for about a year and a half, being unable to work most of the time. The doctor said I had trart disease and indigestion. My appetite was musually poor, I was weak and nervous, and my heart kept throbbing continually, and I washert of breath. Finally I wrote to you for different to the property of Golden Medical Joseph and Sense and the property and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

THE DANGER IN TRUSTS.

Andrew Carnegie points out in the May Century the public benefits of commercial trusts, and an editorial in the same number indicates their danger.

The trust question has two aspects, one material and the other moral. If we were able to separate these aspects completely, and look at the material side alone, there can be little doubt that we should find the merits of combination of capital far outweigning its evils. It has often been shown—and never more cogently than in Mr. Carnegie's article in the current Century—how these combinations are attended at once with economy of toil and increase of production; how the gain which results from this change is not monopolized in a few hands, but is distributed among the masses of the people; how the effort on the part of the promoters of such combinations to keep the gain to them-selves, instead of thus distributing it, seives, instead of thus distributing it, results in a failure; and how, in all prob-ability, the chief loss from trusts falls, not on those who have dealings with them, but on the deluded investors, who suffer from such misjudged efforts.

But there is another side to this whole question. We have to consider not merely the aggregate effect on the comfort of the people, nor the relative effect on the comfort of different classes, but the effect on American ideas and institutions. Our social order is based on the principle that we should try to give tions. Our social order is based on the principle that we should try to give every man a fair chance. We strive above all things else to secure independence of thought and action. We should rate very low a community which, in providing its members with comfort, failed to provide them also with public spirit. We are far from real zing all our ideals in actual practice. Yet we have come nearer to tice. Yet we have come nearer to diste and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large size, 50 cents at druggists or by mail; trial size, 10 sents by mail. industrial change which threatens to crowd us away from such realization. It will not do to ignore the material

It will not do to ignore the material prosperity which has been attendent upon combination of capital, and the difficulty of securing this prosperity in any other way. But it is necessary to acceptuate the fact that there are other things besides material prosperity to be taken into account, and that the native fact leaves to combine a tion which first learns to combine a higher degree of individual independ ence with the same, or approxi the same, advance in collective wealth will take the lead in the industrial race which the different peoples of the world are now so closely contesting.

STORM AND FLOODS.

Tremendous floods are again scourg ing Texas. Destructive winds are accompanying the rain torrents. A tornado visited the southern part of Johnson county, the northern part of Hill, and the eastern part of Bosque yesterday afternoon. It was destructive to property, and several lives were lost. Complete reports are not obtainable on account of wires being down.

The town of Blum, in Hill county, was partly destroyed. The public school building was wrecked and two public hadle burn. pupils badly hurt. Several dwelling houses were also destroyed. The Bap-tist Church was wrecked.

The force of the wind drove a scant ling through the body of a daughter of Dr. Hanks, and she is reported to be dying.
The daughter of Dr. S. P. Hunt was also fataily hurt. The wife of Lacy Robertson was caught under their falling house and crushed so badly that she will die. Other persons were injured, but their names were not obtain-

Deputy Sheriff McCluskey, of the Blum district, was called up over the telephone and said that a waterspout passed through the edge of the towr. The storm came from the southeast and went to the northwest, just skirting the town, which fact was all that saved the town, which lact was all that saved the town from being washed away.

A telephone message from Hillsboro states that the village of Woodbury, twelve miles from Blum, was also destroyed. Woodbury is off the line of sail and give comparistics and the con-stroyed. Woodbury is off the line of rail and wire comunication and it is not known how many lives were lost.

The following bulletin was issued last night from Hillsboro: "At 1:50 p. m. a cyclone struck Blum. The town is literally torn in two. The schoolhouse and the Baptist Church were destroyed. Three persons are reported killed and fifteen injured. Some of the latter in the country. The wires are down and names have not been procured."

A tremenduous flood is reported at Waco, on the Brazos river, and many business houses are flooded. All wire communication south of Hillsboro was lost at 8 o'clock last night, and it is not known at Dallas what the extent of

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still basi the largest sale of any medicine in the civi-lized world. Your mothers and grand mothers never thought of using any-thing else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendictis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undisystem and stop fermentation of undi-gested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by the matter with you. For sale by Ernest L.
